Greetings Woodworkers

October is already here and over half gone by. Winter weather will soon be here. We will be dealing with ice & snow (yes I said it). And before we know 2016 will be over.

This January my daughter & I will be going to Washington DC for the inauguration of the next President. Will be leave Upsala early in the morning on the 16th and returning late night on the 21st. Should be a fun trip already have line up tours of many national sites. This means I will not be present at the January meeting. When we have elections for the next year.

At our board meeting in October we are going to planning meeting ideas for 2017. If anyone has an idea that they would like us look at let me know before Wednesday night. Board is at 6 pm right before our club meeting at 7 pm.

Our September meeting was held at Ferche Millwork in Rice. Charlie Meyer set this up. Got a tour of the plant and some guys got to dumpster dive taking home some scrap pieces. It was good night. Have posted some pictures of that tour.

October meeting will be held on Oct. 19th at the Paramount at 7 pm. I will be doing a demo on finishing techniques that I use.

See at the meeting.
